

Bulganin Sends New 'World Peace' Proposal To Ike

Letter May Be Move To Undercut Talks With Eden

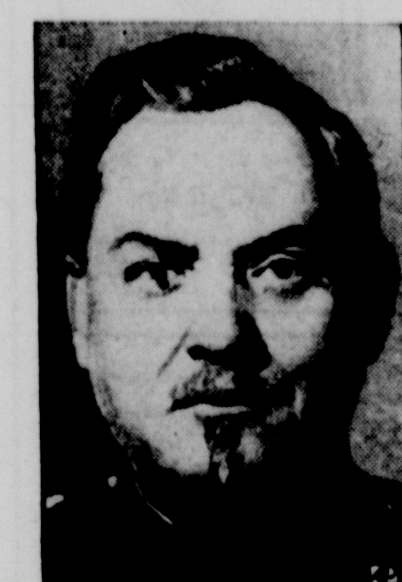

The Daily Record

VOL. 62—NO. 253 Telephone 320 STROUDSBURG—EAST STROUDSBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 26, 1956 FIVE CENTS

By John Scali
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — The Soviet ambassador paid an extraordinary call at the White House today and handed President Eisenhower Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin's newest proposal on how to promote "world peace."

The White House quickly put a top secret label on the Soviet proposition, reporting little beyond the fact that Bulganin advanced his views in a "friendly letter." Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin first read the letter to Eisenhower, and then gave it to him.

At first a belief was widespread that the letter dealt with disarmament—a problem Eisenhower and Bulganin have dealt with personally since last August. However, an air of mystery was added when a well-posted informant said the document did not discuss disarmament very much.

Ike Planning No Pressure On Warren

By Douglas B. Cornell
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — President Eisenhower picked and chucked his way through a maze of political questions today with praise for Vice President Nixon and an admonition against mixing the Supreme Court and politics.

Both Nixon and Chief Justice Warren have been mentioned as potential Republican presidential nominees in the event Eisenhower foregoes a bid for reelection. Some GOP leaders have talked of pressuring Warren to run if Eisenhower doesn't.

One possible meaning to the President's news conference remarks about the Supreme Court and politics — and there were others — was that there would be no such pressure from him. He didn't say so directly, however.

Whose Face Is Red Now?

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 25 (AP) — Last Dec. 15, Mike Sgouros reported his car stolen from Wheeling, 50 miles from here.

Today, a Sistersville doctor got fed up with a car somebody left in front of his office. He called state police.

Police checked, and the car was Sgouros'. The owner looked at the speedometer and determined it had been driven only the 50 miles from Wheeling where it had been stolen.

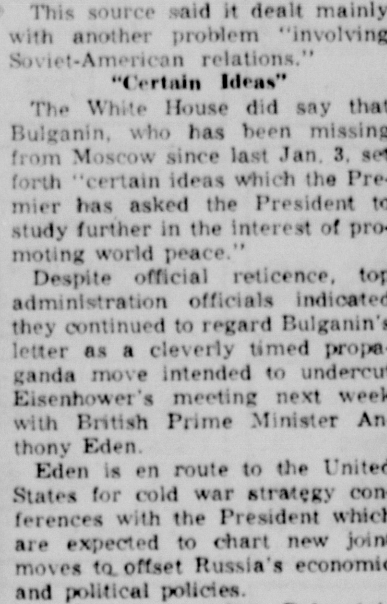

The doctor's office is right across the street from state police headquarters.

Mother Indicted As Mercy Killer

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP) — A mother was indicted today on a manslaughter charge in the shooting of her 35-year-old epileptic son but the grand jury recommended leniency.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Langevin, 56, of Menands, was indicted for first-degree manslaughter for the death of her son, Leonard Leadbetter, who was killed with a rifle as he slept last Oct. 31.

The mother's second husband, Joseph Langevin, said she had been "pressed beyond endurance" by the condition of her son, who had been ill since he was 8. Langevin said she had brooded about what would happen if she were to die before her son.

Jammed Door Floods New Lincoln Tube

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP) — A safety door jammed on the isolated Manhattan end of the new Lincoln Tunnel today and the Hudson River flooded the underground approach. The main tube was not affected.

Khrushchev View
Moscow dispatches said Khrushchev expressed this view in an interview with Marshall MacDuffie, a New York attorney who once headed United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation operations in the Ukraine.

Khrushchev told MacDuffie he believes neither Prime Minister Eden nor former French Premier Edgar Faure want war, and that international tensions will be further relaxed.

Red Leaders Convinced U.S. Wants Peace

MOSCOW, Jan. 25 (AP) — A New York lawyer quoted Nikita S. Khrushchev as saying today that he and other Soviet leaders are convinced President Eisenhower and his advisers are striving for peace.

Marshall MacDuffie, a fairly frequent visitor to the Soviet Union, reported spending three hours and 10 minutes with Khrushchev, the boss of the Soviet Communist party.

The interview coincided with the delivery in Washington of a letter to President Eisenhower from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin. The White House press secretary said it was a friendly letter setting forth ideas on world peace.

Women Pilots Gaining Equality

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — Women are achieving equality with men in aviation, says the magazine Planes.

It said more than 164,000 women are engaged in some phase of the industry. About 122,000 are in the actual manufacture of aircraft and another 20,000 are employed by the scheduled airlines.

A total of 11,564 women are active licensed pilots, of which 14 hold helicopter ratings, 14,338 are members of the Civil Air Patrol and nearly 10,000 are serving in military aviation.

"Mental Blackout" Or Mechanical Failure? — L. A. Probe Of Rail Tragedy Digs In

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25 (AP) — The aftermath of the tragic Sunday train wreck which took 29 lives is making headlines almost as big as did the crash itself.

As a psychiatrist examined the engineer of the ill-fated San Diegan who blamed a "mental blackout" for excessive speed that caused the train to overturn on a curve, there were these developments today:

1. Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll came under fire because of the manner in which he questioned the engineer, Frank Parrish, 61, of San Bernardino.
2. Roll said his chief aim is to determine whether it was human or mechanical failure that caused the wreck.
3. The City Council adopted

Hit-Run Car Kills Man, 20

EAST STROUDSBURG experienced its first fatal automobile accident of 1956 at 12:55 a. m. today when a pre-war model car failed to negotiate a curve near the junction of N. Courtland St. and Paradise Trail.

East Stroudsburg police identified the victim of the fatality as Roland J. Hardy, 20, of 39 Stofflet St., Stroudsburg.

According to police, who are continuing their investigation, the car was traveling south on Route 209 toward East Stroudsburg when it left the highway, jumped the curb and smashed into the stub of a telephone pole between a house and Penn-Dell Dairy.

French Communists Back Socialist For Premier

PARIS, Jan. 25 (AP) — Campaigning hard for a place in the French Cabinet, Communist leader Jacques Duclos today called for a Socialist to be the next premier.

The Communists have little chance now to regain the Cabinet posts they lost more than eight years ago, when the last Socialist premier kicked them out. They hope to win the posts back eventually, however, by showing that any left-of-center Cabinet needs their support in the National Assembly.

Charges Made Against CCC By Whitten

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee made public today a charge that the Commodity Credit Corporation has shrewdly money on warehousemen and processors without helping farmers.

The charge was made by Rep. Whitten (D - Miss.), chairman of an Appropriations subcommittee staff investigation covering the period between April 15, 1955, and January, 1956.

Slayer Given Death Penalty

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 25 (AP) — Death in the gas chamber was decreed today for Arthur Ross Brown who robbed, raped and murdered Mrs. Wilma Allen, pretty wife of a Kansas City motor car dealer.

A Federal Court jury, empaneled only to decide Brown's punishment, took just 35 minutes to recommend death for the kidnap-killing which netted him less than $50 last August.

Execution Set

Judge Charles Whitaker set Feb. 24 for the execution of the ex-convict who offered no defense. Brown, 30, had pleaded guilty to violating the Federal Kidnaping Act, popularly known as the Lindbergh Law.

The government, in demanding the death penalty, read into the court record the chain of events beginning with abduction of Mrs. Allen, 34, as she left a southside beauty shop. The evidence was told him he had forced the fearful woman to drive to a lonely field in nearby Kansas, raped her and shot her to death while she pleaded to go home to her husband and two small children.

New 2-Party Approach Hope In Tax Deadlock

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25 (AP) — Readinger on the floor of the Democratic and Republican floor leaders of the House agreed tonight upon a new try at a bipartisan solution of the 13-month tax deadlock.

Taking the suggestion of Speaker Andrews (D—Cambria), Reps. Smith and Readinger agreed to work out a new tax program acceptable to both sides. The committee would be divided equally along party lines.

Any tax program developed by the committee is to be submitted to both Democratic and Republican House caucuses for a final decision on whether it should be passed and sent to the Senate as a "take it or leave it" proposition.

Hub Caps Found

Parts of the car, including hub caps from a Chrysler and a Plymouth, were scattered over the dairy driveway. Both apparently were from the same car, police theorized.

The right side of the car reportedly struck the pole and ripped the right door and running board from the chassis and scattered glass throughout the area. The car left the scene immediately after the accident, police said.

Car Recovered

Later, police found a car believed to be the one being sought. It was abandoned not far south of the accident scene on Courtland St. It bore a late-issue license plate and police were checking on the ownership through state offices in Harrisburg.

The body was found halfway between N. Courtland St. and the dairy building. Injuries included multiple fractures of the right side of the skull.

Finishes Work For Borough On Budget

STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night completed its proposed 1956 budget which is based on the same tax rate which residents have been paying since 1949.

Borough Secretary Harold Snyder explained that residents will be paying 17 1/2 mills, plus a $5 per capita tax, if the budget is adopted.

Public Inspection
Snyder said the proposed schedule must be open to public inspection for 10 days following advertisement. He indicated that council would take final action either at a special meeting next month or at the regular meeting in March.

Soviets Send Ministers To Warsaw Talks

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 25 (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov arrived by plane in Czechoslovakia today for a meeting of the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact countries. Diplomatic observers speculated the meeting would be used as a forum for a new propaganda campaign to urge disbandment of the West's North Atlantic Alliance.

The meeting was regarded by these observers as important in this respect: It would show the outlines of a forthcoming Soviet attempt to frighten Western Europe into the idea that military alliances might lead to war on the Continent.

Who Shot My Horse Sammy? Broken-Hearted Girl Sobs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 25 (AP) — The reason for this letter is to haunt the conscience of whoever did it — the shooting of my little white-and-brown horse, Sammy.

A heart-broken girl, 15-year-old Allene Gayler, told her story in a letter to the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph. Her family has a ranch east of Colorado Springs.

"I watched him come in, stepping in his same dainty way, but he held his head lower and waved it around strangely," she wrote. "He stepped in the corral and pranced up almost to the water tank when he stumbled and went down. Going to him, I noticed his head was badly swollen. And strangely enough, no marks showed.

"He was much better Tuesday and we didn't think much about it. Wednesday he was bad again. The next day his eyes were both swollen shut. The veterinarian told my father Sammy had been shot with a bullet from a .22 rifle in his face.

"Saturday the doctor had great hopes for him. That night, my dad and I went to see him. I saw his legs and that was all I needed to know he was dead.

"He was dead and he had a handful of dirt clinched between his teeth to ease his agony as he died.

Cities Group Opposes Bell Rate Increase

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Pennsylvania League of Cities took action today to get each of its member cities to join in contesting a proposed 36 million dollar annual rate boost by the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

The league in a resolution declared "the case of member cities can best be presented through the cooperation and joint effort of the various members."

The league plans to contact each of the 50 member cities and recommend that each one interested in opposing the boost join in a "united effort to contest the increase and minimize the expense by sharing the cost of litigation."

Hearings on the boost will open before the Public Utility Commission Feb. 15-16. The boost is the largest ever proposed by a Pennsylvania utility.

Prison Board Releases Fay, Labor Leader

DANMORA, N. Y., Jan. 25 (AP)—Joseph S. Fay, 64, a former labor union leader who shook down contractors for hundreds of thousands of dollars, was granted parole from state prison today.

The state Parole Board acted after hearing a personal plea by Fay. The board set a date for his discharge from Clinton Prison in this Northern New York community, but did not disclose it.

The prison might take two or three weeks to "process" his discharge. The board forbade Fay from engaging in any type of union activity for the duration of the parole, which continues until Feb. 19, 1963. Fay has served eight years of a 7½ to 15-year term for extorting $368,000 from construction contractors who employed members of the Operating Engineers Union. He was union vice president.

He received nationwide notoriety in 1953 when it was revealed he had received prominent politicians

Report Criticizes Lax Method Used In Buying Bins

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee reported today that "gross inefficiency" and "poor business management" marked the government's 1954 program of buying bins for grain storage.

Many of the bins were defective, the subcommittee said in a formal report that was sharply critical of the Department of Agriculture, which bought the bins, and the Navy Department's inspection service, which inspected them.

The report put no dollar loss on what it called the "unnecessarily costly" program, but said it has been informed that corrective measures have now been taken.

MacArthur's Birthday Should Be Signal For "General Of The Armies" Honor Award

Gen. Douglas MacArthur will be 76 years old today.

It will be no credit to America's innate sense of gratitude if another anniversary goes by without a move to grant him officially one high tribute and honor still withheld from him by a timorous Congress.

That is, his promotion to the rank of "General of the Armies," a title given heretofore to only one man, the late General Pershing. Comparison of General MacArthur's contribution to his country with that of General Pershing's needs no more than reflection on the scope of World War I and World War II.

Numerous bills and resolutions have been introduced in Congress to give General MacArthur the rank and honor he so richly deserves. But they have been squelched by partisanship and Pentagon quibbling.

We hope the sponsors of such a move will redouble their efforts this year — the General's birthday would be a highly appropriate occasion — and that the necessary legislation this time is considered objectively and in the light of his brilliant military record over a half century.

Wisdom Of Speaker Hi Andrews Should Prevail In State's Taxation Battle

The latest maneuver in the politically-shot tax battle in the House of Representatives — defeat of a 3 per cent sales tax plan — leaves the legislature without a single plan before it to solve the rapidly approaching bankruptcy of state, school district and hospital operations.

"Back home" all over the state there is an increasing swell of resentment over the political bickering, name calling on both sides and general lack of moral fibre in dealing with a very critical fiscal situation.

After the latest political debacle on the tax issue in the House on Tuesday, some sound words of wisdom were uttered by Speaker Hiram G. (Hi) Andrews (D-Cambria) that are not only worth repeating here but should be followed with alacrity by members of the legislature. Said the veteran legislator:

"We all realize the gravity of the (fiscal) situation. We can no longer treasure our ideologies or continue to adhere to our philosophies.

"Neither party can muster the votes to meet the financial needs of the Commonwealth. No genius can devise an adequate program that will get the 106 votes that are needed.

"We stand in a new day. I suggest that beginning with this hour the majority and minority leaders enter into conference for the purpose of reaching an agreement which they can submit to the House as a committee of the whole.

"It is the only way of ascertaining the strength of the bipartisan program and that is the only kind of program that will survive.

"We can never resolve our differences by glaring at each other across the aisle. Nor will we resolve them by kicking the Governor around. It is politically indecent that leaders should assume the attitude of overlords and treat us as if we were children. The will of the House is an imperial will on the subject of taxes (a reference to the fact that all tax measures must originate in the House). The sovereign will of the House will prevail."

With this straight-talking proposal from Hi Andrews we fully agree. We are confident the citizens as a whole, and especially those who direct the destinies of our school districts, hospitals and many other local services dependent on state appropriations, agree without reservation.

That being the case, let the public become vocal and let legislators — Representatives and Senators — know the time has come to avert further disaster with immediate bipartisan agreement and action of a broad-based tax program.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

MacArthur's Birthday Proves That Time Has Proved Him A Noble Figure In Confused Era

As one lies here and thinks of men and events and the courses and tides of history, it comes to me that on Thursday, General Douglas MacArthur will celebrate his 76th birthday. I hope I have the date right but here I may not look anything up or telephone. For only one hour each day I am excused from being a vegetable and thus far, there have been no untoward results. During that one free hour, I write these little essays just as I am sure a fiddler would want to run over the strings of a violin. We are all creatures of habit and for nearly 40 years now, I have informed the world on this and that and the habit is too strong to break.

To return to Douglas MacArthur, his birthday ought to be marked in some manner for this is an extraordinarily truthful man in an era of mediocre time-servers. His is a philosophic outlook on the history and future of his country rather than an over-specialized emphasis on personal self-preservation. He is acknowledged in his own occupation to be our greatest general, perhaps the most competent military mind we have produced since Robert E. Lee; so he was kicked out by military lackies, most of whose names we have already forgotten. They may have gotten rid of MacArthur from the Army but must ask him about General Malin from his place in history.

And as he remains alive, we then Ridgway's disclosure that a report to the nation was faked and who was responsible for faking it. For MacArthur suffered much from the moral irresponsibility of the Pentagon where men become so engrossed in detail that they never think of the consequences of what they do. I met General Ridgway at a dinner shortly after he returned from Korea and his conversation was all in one direction, that MacArthur had been right and the politicians in Washington all wrong and he spoke privately of how the lives of our sons were endangered because of arms shortages. Many crimes have been committed in the name of politics, or loyalty to the "commander-in-chief," whatever that may be in American life. But now the honest men are talking up and it is not going to be easy to answer. Nobody can answer Ridgway's charge of lying to the American people.

General Douglas MacArthur, as a military man, could not understand why he was instructed to go into a war to achieve a defeat. There was never a question of insubordination because he let his army to defeat as he had been instructed to do. But how to understand those orders? How to make them fit a philosophy of war? That he could not do. And so he spoke out and got fired after a serving his country from West Point to a commander of a theater. He was fired like a little boy chased off the block. It was a cheap, an uncouth dismissal. It was like sticking one's tongue out at a great historic monument.

When men speak of morale in the army or clergy, or in schools or anywhere, they really speak of that quality of pride that men have in their work and their associations. The "old tie" may be a phrase for amusement but it represented just this high quality of loyalty to a service that held better than all the rules book ever devised. When General Douglas MacArthur was dismissed summarily, without even a face-saving device, a blow was struck not at him but at the morale of our armed services. A noble overtone of service disappeared. It all became nothing but a jangle for those who learn how to stand in right, who know just what say at the right moment, the apple-polishers.

Efficient and competent as they may be, and nobody doubts that, they lack a moral plan and their lack is conveyed all down the line to the men. A hero's breed must be heroic and these men who knifed MacArthur to please politicians were not heroes. And where are they today?

And so there he stands as noble as ever, Douglas MacArthur, from whom has been withheld a nominal honor, the title, "General of the Armies." On his birthday, I congratulate him that time has proved him a noble figure in a confused era.

Dear Sir:
Recently, my husband died in a Philadelphia hospital after treatment which involved the use of a great amount of blood. This blood was supplied through the American Red Cross blood bank from supplies given by donors here.

We are most grateful for this great service and we are particularly grateful to all those friends of my husband and our family who earmarked blood contributions to the Red Cross blood bank in an effort to replace the great amount needed in my husband's case.

To these friends and former associates of my husband I give my heartfelt thanks and to those who continue to help replace blood consumed in my husband's case my deepest gratitude.

What are the people of Mont-Cong complaining about? They didn't have any floods. Maybe a little high water, but nothing worth mentioning.

We have this on the authority of Life Magazine, which, bragging about its coverage of the events of 1955 (Page 136, issue of Jan. 23) includes the New England floods. Not the Northeast floods. The New England floods.

THROW OUT THE LIFELINE!

My America —by Harry Boyd
Easier To Agree On Fair Minimum Than Maximum Pay

March 1st the minimum wage goes up again and the established national philosophy will be that any worker is worth at least a dollar an hour. Which may well be.

But I have noticed it's easier to agree on a fair minimum than on a fair maximum wage.

Any minimum wage seems reasonable — for others that it is — enough below what you are making to keep your self-esteem unshaken.

On the other hand, any salary large enough to make your own look like 30 cents with a hole in it seems more than what the fellow getting it is worth.

After all, anybody should be able to get along nicely on, say, about 50 per cent more money than you happen to be making at the moment.

Thus, although few object to a dollar-an-hour minimum wage, there is a good deal of grousing about the fact that some industrial executives are paid $100,000 a year and more — just for sitting around chewing those big cigars.

This attitude reflects a superficial understanding of how our economic system works. If the attitude persists it could wreck the system and make even a 10-cent minimum wage hard to provide.

Instead of plugging for higher minimum wages, perhaps we ought to beat the drum for higher salaries at the top.

Higher incomes for the top men wouldn't necessarily spur those men to better performance but it would get a lot more out of the in-betweeners.

"In business," says Crawford Greenwalt, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, "it is important to induce as many of our younger men as possible to set their sights on the job ahead and to broaden their shoulders for responsibilities to come. If we are to do so, the game must be worth the candle. . . . Already there are signs . . . that promotion is a little less attractive than it used to be. . . . In order to provide significant increases for the levels down the line, gross salaries in the top levels must be very high indeed."

Either that, or tax policies must be changed to permit higher-salaried people to keep more of what they are paid. Pointing to the quiz-show contestants who, because of the tax factor, refuse to risk going for the top prizes, Mr. Greenwalt goes on:

"When the contestants fail to do their best on 'The $64,000 Question' no one is the loser but the individual concerned. . . . But when a promising young business executive decides he won't try for the $64,000 question — when he decides that the job of, say, plant manager is sufficiently rewarding and that he isn't interested in becoming production manager because the increased net isn't worth the extra effort and strain — then everyone is the loser."

Maybe it's time we sparred a round or two with the big question Mr. Greenwalt raises.

Try and Stop Me —by Benet Cerf

Peter Lorre approached a pretty miss at a charity bazaar and offered her $10 for a kiss. She paled visibly and recoiled. "Come now," said Lorre, a bit nettled, "it isn't going to be that terrible!"

"I wasn't worried about your kiss, Mr. Lorre," the miss assured him. "I was just thinking of the fortune I gave away for free last night."

There was also the culture-conscious husband who took his wife to several modern art shows, symphony concerts, lectures by visiting savants, and a futuristic ballet. After the latter she finally spoke her mind: "Confound it, Herbert, why aren't you like all other husbands who never take their wives anywhere?"

"I can believe," a newlywed husband assured his bride, "that you baked these biscuits, but — who in tophet helped you lift them into the stove?"

Airplanes were used to spray more than one million, 600 thousand acres in western states for grasshopper control in the United States in 1955.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Sen. Green Adds Weight Against Foreign Aid

Washington, January 26: The embattled multi-million dollar foreign aid program is coming under fire from still another leading supporter.

He is Senator Theodore Green, second-ranking Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee, who has consistently voted for foreign aid measures since the start of the cold war.

The Rhode Islander has written a highly critical report on the manner in which this program is being administered abroad.

Foremost among his charges, based on personal investigation during a trip for that purpose through the Middle and Far East last fall, is that high salaries are being paid in direct violation of official ceilings.

In one instance, Green discovered an official getting $27,750 — which is $5,250 more than the pay of members of Congress and the cabinet.

Two other disclosures along this line were: Numerous cases of employees being paid more than the chief of their mission; and the hiring of workers being turned over to contractors, with resulting loss of control over the former.

Green quotes one foreign aid "field representative" as complaining ruefully, "We are hiring people to hire people, and are losing control over the people hired."

The significance of Green's criticism is that in addition to being a strong champion of foreign aid, since the original Marshall Plan, he is close to Senator Walter George, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, who sternly disapproved of President Eisenhower's plan to increase this program.

The powerful Georgian and Green usually work together on foreign issues. But until Green made his still-unpublished report, he had given no indication of his attitude toward the President's proposal. The report removes any doubt about that.

Coming at this particular time, Green is obviously serving notice that he is siding with his friend and colleague.

Note: Green, a senator since 1937, won a fourth term last year by a big majority — at the age of 87.

The Details — John Hollister, head of the foreign aid program, will be grilled by the Foreign Relations Committee on Green's first-hand report.

Other charges of extensive waste, extravagance, incompetence and confusion made by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell will also be put up to Hollister. As revealed in this column January 16, Campbell is making a country-by-country audit of foreign aid spending, and has submitted a report on Pakistan to Senator George.

Green's findings fully corroborate Campbell's hints. Like the latter, the Rhode Island Senator makes serious charges against foreign aid operations.

Highlights of this critical report are:

"Contracts with private business firms by the International Cooperation Administration raise a number of questions. These contracts cover a wide range of activities, from a short-range survey by expert consultants to long-range operation of projects. They also include, of course, major construction undertakings which are financed by economic assistance, rather than technical assistance funds. This seems to be their most appropriate use.

"There is abundant evidence, however, that these contracts are too often used as a means of recruitment and as a means to break down government salary ceilings. The net result is that ICA hires an outside firm to do its recruiting and pays, not only the higher salaries of private business, but also a fee to the contractor for his recruiting services.

"In one private contract which I examined in Southeast Asia, an employee received a basic compensation of $1,750 a month, plus a 15 per cent overseas differential, plus a $300-a-month living allowance. This totals $2,750 a year. Further, if he spends 17 months or more overseas, all this will be tax-free because his contract is with a foreign government, undervritten by ICA.

"Under this same contract, out of a total of 24 administrative and technical personnel, 14 receive basic compensation of $1,000 or more a month.

"Also, contracts provide for numerous employees being paid more than the ICA chiefs of Mission, who are supposed to supervise the projects and be responsible for the work of the private firms.

"The choice of particular firms for contracting purposes also raises questions of policy. In some instances, American firms have contracts to give technical assistance to foreign firms with which they are in competition. The disinterestedness of the advice given in these cases is obviously open to suspicion, however sound that advice may be."

Seek Action On Water Pollution

—by H. G. Heller

"Uncle Sam's top welfare officials either don't know how bad the water pollution situation is, or they are crassly indifferent to the problem."

That in essence was the meaning of a statement presented recently by the Natural Resources Council of America to Secretary Marion B. Folsom of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The Council is composed of 37 conservation organizations and scientific societies in the field of renewable natural resources.

Urging vigorous leadership to build up the water pollution control program of the Public Health Service, the conservationists said they had never seen a secretary of HEW — or of the old Department of Labor — or a representative from his office, appear at Congressional hearings in behalf of pollution-control funds.

"The federal budgeting process," they said, "has treated this program like a stepchild."

"When President Eisenhower last January (1955) called for strengthened programs to combat the increasingly serious pollution of our rivers and streams, the Bureau of the Budget, as well as the Congress, must have been adjusting their hearing aids."

The Council observed that the Taft-Barkley pollution-control act, passed in 1928, authorized total annual appropriations up to $27 million. Yet the most ever appropriated was $2,491,283 in 1951.

"For the last three fiscal years Congress has given your Water Pollution Control Division the following token sums to work with: $903,500 in 1954; $903,500 in 1955; and $1,175,000 in 1956."

"The eight-year total of appropriations under Taft-Barkley has been a measly $11,350,568 as against total authorizations of $216,000,000."

The Council also expressed "the hope that an earnest and positive effort will be made during the next session of Congress to secure appropriations adequate to the programs that will be authorized by pending S. 890." This referred to a bill, already passed by the Senate, which must be enacted to replace the expiring Taft-Barkley law.

Order of St. Olav was bestowed on him at an elaborate ceremony by Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstjerne, dean of Washington's diplomatic corps. Only three other Americans have received this exalted decoration — President Eisenhower, while commander of SIAEF, after VE-Day; Mrs. Borden Harriman, former Ambassador to Norway, during the Roosevelt Administration; and Vice Admiral Emory Land, cousin of the late President.

TB Society Nets $10,881 Toward $12,500 Seal Goal

MONROE COUNTY Tuberculosis Society directors were told last night that the recent Christmas Seal sale campaign produced $10,881.38, compared with $9,953.17 for the same date last year. The 1956 figure, however, is short of a required $12,500 budget.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming advised directors that money is still coming in slowly from 1,890 persons or firms who have not yet made settlements. Directors expect that small amounts of settlements will continue for some time.

The society mailed 8,179 letters in the current campaign and 344 Christmas Seal bonds. Some 6,060, or 74 per cent of the letters have produced returns. About two per cent of the letters were returned undelivered because of address changes. Some 23 per cent are still out without settlement.

All of these figures on the mailings show up at lower percentage figures than the campaign a year ago, indicating a much better year in response.

Payment on Note
The financial report showed that early seal returns made possible payment of a note the society gave for a loan to pay for the X-ray machine installed a year ago in the General Hospital.

In that connection Dr. Paul Shiffer announced that 2,122 admissions to the hospital received benefit of X-rays from the machine—the first time in history admissions to the hospital have received chest X-rays.

In addition, Mrs. Fleming reported some 96 pre-natal cases were X-rayed, a project which the TB Society assumed at the request of the Monroe County Medical Society.

Some 350 volunteers helped prepare Seal sale letters in the current campaign. In addition literature and posters were distributed by the Girl Scouts. The Daily Record and Radio Station WVPO were praised for the support given to the Seal campaign.

Joint Project
Dr. Shiffer and Elwood Hintze were named by H. G. Heller, president, to explore with the Monroe County Cancer Society a project for cancer detection by chest X-rays with TB Society equipment.

Mrs. Fleming announced the society has set up a program of monthly X-rays with state mobile equipment for local industry and schools. A unit will work here under TB Society arrangements.

Legislature Urged To Act On State Tax

THE RAMSEY school section of Stroud Union Parent-Teachers Association voted unanimously in favor of "immediate action" by the State legislature to solve the current lack of funds this week.

Action by the elementary section of the Union PTA followed a similar strong resolution passed last week by the high school PTA division, and one approved by the Delaware Water Gap, PTA.

A vote to send copies of the resolution to representatives in the Assembly from this area was passed unanimously.

Mrs. James Kitson, president, was in charge of the meeting. The speaker was Miss Eloise Bryan, school psychologist, who talked on "Accepting Children As They Are." Miss Bryan was introduced by Mrs. Norman Dennis, program chairman.

Differ In Many Ways

In her talk, the psychologist stressed the point that all children are different in many ways. This is true, she said, even though they may be in the same grade in school. Each differs in mental and physical makeup, no matter his age group, she said.

One of the foremost truths of behavior, therefore, is that we cannot expect the same results from all children, she said. A question and answer period followed the main talk.

After the business portion of the meeting ended, refreshments were served by the social committee headed by Mrs. I. Wood Hintze and Mrs. Harold Flagler.

Chest Directors Plan Discussion On Allocations

MCHANEY—The Western Poconos Vacation Association will meet at Chestnuthill Inn here on Monday night at 8.

Mrs. Blanche Shotwell, secretary of the organization and chairman of the advertising committee, said last night that the group had had a "highly successful first year in 1955 and plans are now being drawn up for extensive promotion during 1956."

The association will celebrate its first anniversary on Monday, Feb. 20, at a pork and sauerkraut dinner meeting in Brodheadsville Inn at Brodheadsville, Mrs. Shotwell said.

Parents Of Camp Davis Boy Identify Body As That Of Son, William D. Leibfried

THE BODY OF THE 69th August flood victim was identified positively yesterday as that of William D. Leibfried, 12, of Nanuet, N. Y. Identification was made by Leibfried's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Leibfried, late in the morning. Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, county coroner, said the Leibfrieds recognized a scar on the right leg, just below the knee.

Further proof of identification was a pair of bathing trunks found on the body. These were of a gaily-colored tropical design with swordfish and fishing tackle against a square, thin-lined but bright check.

Physical characteristics of the body—the height and apparent build—also fitted the description of the Leibfried boy.

Close Parallel

There was a close parallel, however between these descriptive elements for Leibfried and for Bruce Thompson, 15, another Camp Davis guest at the time of the flood. This, coupled with the fact that one pocket in the dungarees on the body bore the laundry stamp "Mr. Thompson" had led to a purely tentative identification of the body on Tuesday as that of Bruce Thompson.

Yesterday, however, both Thompson's father and the Leibfrieds came to Stroudsburg to examine the body and the clothing. Here, Mrs. Leibfried explained that the Thompson boy's mother had quite often given Bruce's trousers to "Billy" Leibfried when Bruce had outgrown them.

Bruce Thompson was three years older than the Leibfried boy. They were close friends at the camp and their families were well acquainted. Leibfried said it was also possible that his son might have borrowed the trousers from Bruce, since the two boys often exchanged clothing.

Body Found Tuesday

Identification made by the family hinged on the scar and the swimming trunks, however.

The body was discovered Tuesday afternoon when two teen-aged boys looking for muskrat trap sites came across the top part of the skull lying exposed and above the ground.

State police were called. With volunteer "diggers" they and the

Sterling Township Becomes Greene-Dreher Fair Partner

NEWFOUNDLAND — Revival of the Greene-Dreher Fair, suspended in 1953 after 38 years of operation, moved forward Monday night as the association met in the local school to continue planning the 1956 renewal of the agricultural exhibition, one of the oldest community fairs in Pennsylvania.

Second reading and final adoption of changes in the association's bylaws was accomplished. Most important of these were a change in the name of the organization to "The Greene-Dreher-Sterling Association", linking Sterling Township to the original setup as is the case in the local school jointure, and making the election of officers a function of the association rather than that of the board of directors.

With Carroll Fetherman, association president, in the chair, the resignation of William Evans as treasurer was accepted and Leon compilation of the annual premium list was turned over to Rev. George P. Weiland. President Fetherman called for volunteer labor and equipment to complete the job of moving one of the fair buildings back on its foundation. Weather permitting, the job will get under way Monday at 9 a.m. In case of bad weather, the following Monday was set as the work day.

Next meeting of the association was set for Monday, March 19, at 8 p.m. in the school.

Greentown Heroine Wins Carnegie Medal For "Extraordinary Risk Of Life" In Flood

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 25 (AP)—Three Pennsylvanians—one of whom drowned in a life-saving effort—won bronze medals today for "extraordinary risk of life." The awards were made by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. The Pennsylvanians receiving the citations were Geraldine L.

Miller of Greentown, James A. Boylan of West Easton, and James A. Hostetter (deceased) of rural Route 1, Garrett.

Hostetter, 18, a laborer, died in an attempt to save Julia C. Chilton, also 18, from drowning at Neyerdale, Pa., on Oct. 15, 1954. Miss Miller, 17, helped to save in which Mrs. Chilton and her husband were riding stalled on a highway in the rising flood waters of a creek.

Drifts in Current

The car drifted 150 feet in a current 4-5 miles an hour but was halted by a rope stretched across the submerged highway.

Hostetter, who was unable to swim, and two other men waded to one end of the rope. With a clothes line tied around his waist, he waded out and got hold of Mrs. Chilton.

As Hostetter lifted her from the auto, she seized him around the neck. He lost his footing and fell over backwards but maintained hold of Mrs. Chilton.

The clothes line broke and Hostetter stood up briefly and tried to lift Mrs. Chilton but again was swept off his feet by the current.

They drifted 180 feet to water 12 feet deep in the normal creek channel and drowned. Mrs. Chilton's husband was aided to safety after the flood waters receded. Miss Miller volunteered in helping to save Mildred McNeice after she and her 21-year-old sister, Marie Fosgreen, got marooned in a stalled auto on a highway covered by rising flood waters.

Swept Downstream

The women stepped into deep water and Mrs. McNeice was swept downstream. Her sister reached wadable water and was aided to shore.

Miss Miller, appearing at the scene, tied a 180 foot rope around her waist, and held by two men swam out to Mrs. McNeice who got hold of the rope.

With Mrs. McNeice working her way along the rope ahead of Miss Miller, they moved 20-30 feet at a time between debris and made it to shore.

Miss Miller, who was in the water two hours, was chilled and suffered bruises and muscular soreness. Mrs. McNeice was treated for exposure.

Boylan saved Heit from a burning auto. Heit's two-door sedan, struck from behind by a trailer-truck, skidded 80 some feet and burst into flames. Heit was knocked unconscious.

Boylan, seeing the crash, raced 300 feet to the burning wreckage. Flames 10 feet high enveloped the wreckage. He tried to open the door on the driver's side but found it was jammed.

Heit lay sprawled in the front seat, his feet entangled in the wreckage. Low flames spit from the dashboard and the front and rear seats were afire in places.

Ideal Parent, Teacher Seen Through Other's Eyes; New School Additions Sought

Both what they—as parents—feel a teacher should do for their children, and the kind of person teachers wish parents might be—were crystallized for members of the Smithfield Parent-Teachers Association during a panel discussion at their third general meeting held Tuesday evening, January 24, at the school.

Entitled "What Makes a Good Parent? What Makes a Good Teacher?", the panel, moderated by Mrs. David Mazer consisted of two parents and two teachers with Mrs. Sal Pappalardo and Kenneth Fritz speaking on their concept of the ideal teacher, and Mrs. Margaret Heller and Paul Bartholomew giving their opinions on the part parents should play.

Apparently taken for granted in the discussion, formal education as such did not appear to be a primary parental concern; it was rather the teacher's contribution toward the development of a balanced personality and the child's satisfactory adjustment to life that were stressed as being most desirable.

Parents perhaps expected more from teachers than visa versa but, on the whole, there was agreement as to the fundamental principles each looked for in the other, with consideration of the individual child's needs, cooperation with each other and a desire for appreciation of both jobs given greatest emphasis.

Ideal Buildings, Too

The panel discussion followed an extensive business meeting presided over by Mr. Harold Hamlen, PTA president, and attended by a large audience; among them were Carl Secor, supervising principal of the schools in the East Stroudsburg Jointure, Herbert Young, president of the Joint School Board; and Raymond Hartmann, president of the Smithfield School Board.

Highlights of this session was presentation of the recommendations of the PTA building committee in a report given by Mrs. lone Middaugh, committee secretary, sharper definition and closer perspective to the proposed additions to Smithfield.

The report detailed further the use to which the proposed additions to Smithfield school would be put. The addition has been recommended as part of the overall construction program being planned by the East Stroudsburg Area Jointure.

Set up for the purposes of studying the improvement of existing school facilities, the Building Committee recommended the need for a multi-purpose room with a seating capacity of 500, plus six new classrooms, equipped with adequate locker space and lavatories, to fill the demands for a kindergarten; a special no-grade class; an arts and crafts department; a home economics room; and a music room for the band and chorus.

Members of this building committee include Raymond Hartmann, Parke Unangst, Mrs. lone Middaugh, Paul Bartholomew, Allen Sterner, principal of Smithfield School, Harold Hamlen, PTA President and chairman of the Building Committee, Russell Scott, and Gordon Bitterman.

Open Meeting On Sports

Another important project under way was reported on by Russell Scott, PTA vice-president. As chairman of the newly formed supervised sports and organized play committee which has been created to investigate the value of directed play and physical education in child development, Scott announced a forthcoming open meeting to be held at his home in Marshall's Creek on Thursday, February 16 when both Dr. Nagel of the State Teacher's College and Mr. Carl Secor will be present for advice and recommendations. He urged attendance of all those interested in this program.

Other plans were as follows: Mrs. John Heller, program chairman, reported that at the next PTA meeting to be held February 28 Raymond Hartmann will speak on the school board's activities. The meeting will commemorate Founders' Day and the tenth anniversary of the Smithfield PTA, and also will be known as Father's Night with the fathers being put in charge of serving refreshments.

Mrs. Russell Scott, chairman of the supper committee, announced that a Spring Dinner will be held April 15 at the firehouse in Marshall's Creek. She appointed Mrs. Helen Hufford as co-chairman.

Paul Bartholomew, musical director, reminded the audience that the Hill Billy Operetta, "On Top Of Old Smoky", to be produced by the members of the chorus, is to be staged Monday, February 6 at the East Stroudsburg Junior High School auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The new chairman of the home room mothers, Mrs. Stanley Wisegarver, was introduced. The attendance award given to Mrs. Daisy Cron's second grade. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ernest Silfee, hospitality co-chairman.

Just Between Us

—by Bobby Westbrook

Every occupation has its drawbacks. The housewife preparing to entertain the "girls" at a bridge party wants to have the house spick and span and the refreshments very fancy, but at the same time she has a family that lives in the house and clutters it and wants to eat, too.

Mailmen and clerks have the pre-Christmas rush, accountants have income tax deadlines and lawyers have court sessions. Everybody thinks he's the most overworked person in the world at times like these, but on a newspaper, we know different.

With a special edition coming up, the stories have to be collected, written, and dummed up at the same time that the regular news goes on unabated. A cageful of bears with sore heads couldn't be more cantankerous at such times.

The Smithfield PTA stayed pretty well away from the cantankerous side when parents evaluated the ideal teacher and vice versa, which is pretty diplomatic of them. Maybe I should have warned them.

When we were school girls we used to have "truth sessions". It started in a laudable attempt to make ourselves more attractive, more charming and less full of faults. One by one, we'd move to the center of the circle to have our friends analyze our weaknesses, honestly and objectively.

The trouble originated because that's just what they did. And the nearer they hit the mark, the madder the victim would get. It always ended up with somebody going home in tears and nobody speaking to anybody else.

Maybe there was some ultimate benefit, but that was a gantlet I'd never be brave enough to run these days.

PTA Volunteers Spark March Of Dimes In Twp.

Dingman's Ferry — The March of Dimes campaign in Delaware Township was off to a good start with Mrs. Roy Seymour collecting almost $100 or her first day out.

Two other volunteers from the Parent Teachers Association will be following suit and all residents may expect them to call. Workers are reminding donors that it is these contributions to the National Polio Foundation which have helped make possible the Salk polio vaccine which was administered to the school children of Delaware Township last year.

Betcha wouldn't have guessed that General Douglas MacArthur is 76 years old today—but he is, according to my calendar. I'll wager you are aware, however, that our Wyckoff Runways Sale begins this morning with odorousness marked down to almost nothing in every department. Come in and look around! . . . And isn't it nice that our newly renovated Tea Room and kitchen are open once again? The fact is, when our store has a rummage sale there are many shrewd shoppers who spend the entire day here, stopping their treasure hunt only long enough to enjoy one of our sandwiches or platters . . . In the Employees' Lounge, we overheard Kathryn Felencer, of our children's department, advising a co-worker to "Read Readers Digest and learn to live with your troubles." The very logical answer was "Why? I'd rather live with some of the mine are so boring!" . . . Maybe I should advise Dottie Dunn that whenever I'm missing from my office these days, she can probably locate me in the Sears Record Shop. Bill Sanders and I had quite a session the other afternoon, going over all the newly arrived discs from such companies as RCA, Columbia, Capitol and Decca, and I made the happy discovery that the Camden label offers something really special too at prices anyone can afford. Camden 45 EPs sell at 79c and feature some very fine artists in familiar, ever-popular melodies. Camden 33 1/3 LPs sell at 1.98. Hi Fi recordings are priced at 80c for Pop tunes; 1.49 for the 45 EP, 2.98 for the two-card and 3.98 for the 3 card, while the twelve melody 33 1/3 sells at 3.98. We also have a very splendid selection of children's stories and musical numbers priced at 49c for both 45 and 78 RPM. Among the artists featured in our current still incomplete stock, are Les Brown, Jackie Gleason, Bennie Goodman, Guy Lombardo, Lawrence Welk, Ken Griffin, Arthur Godfrey, Paul Weston, Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller, and of course, our very own Johnnie Eaton . . . Kathryn Long tells me I overlooked a good line when I wrote about Marie Bean's birthday. I should have said, "How nice—that Marie Bean and Jack Benny are the same age!" Well, now I've said it. Everybody happy?

Our fashion departments are doing a rushing business these days, with our buyers getting ready to go on the market, and our store girls getting packed for Mexico. Our dresses are so smart right now, they're being sold off the form near our cashier's cage almost as fast as they're placed on display. Tuesday's record was two, I believe . . . Wonder why I persist in going to British-made movies? They're never quite as entertaining as my anti-lapses, and when the actors become excited and talk fast their language might as well be Greek. It does seem to me, however, that cartorially speaking, English ballroom and nightclub scenes are quite as elegant as the Hollywood variety. Don't you agree? . . . Carrie Rusk celebrated her birthday yesterday by giving her customers a very exciting savings. She offered a group of approximately 50 Salesmen's Sample sweaters at about 40% of their value. It was a beautiful assortment in sizes 36 and 38, and one of the finest special purchases we've had on our counters in a long time. Sweaters that were originally 8.98 sold for 5.99; those 7.98 sold for 4.99 and the 4.99 numbers sold for 2.99. Don't know whether or not there are any left, but if you're in need of a sweater for extra warmth now and comfortable chic on the cool days of spring, you might drop by to see for yourself . . . Henry Kresge, manager of our flourishing Sears store, suggests my calling your attention to the big Pre-Inventory clearance of all types of equipment and machinery, now going on in our Sears Farm Store. I'm not much of an authority on such things as Snow Plow Rigs, Chain Saws, Oil Brooders, 8 foot Elevators, Corn Shellers and Hammer Mills, but I can subtract. And when I see items regularly priced at 164.96 now selling for $148, and savings of approximately 23.00 on other items, I know perfectly well that these are things to be looked into. The farmer's lot is a busy, blessed one—and the right machinery will make it lighter and even more blessed. So now's the time our Farm Store should be doing a rushing business for everyone's good.

County Cage Circuit Fills In Contests

TANNERSVILLE — Officials of the Monroe County Basketball League yesterday rearranged the remainder of its present schedule to take care of all games postponed for one reason or another earlier in the campaign.

Otto "Junior" Mills, president of the circuit, revealed after the meeting that all makeup contests would be held on Tuesday, January 31, and Friday, February 17. Pocono and Polk will clash at Tannersville next Tuesday, while Barrett and Chestnut Hill battle on the latter's home floor in Brodheadsville.

Three Battles

On February 11, Pocono will battle Tobyhanna Township, at Pocono Pines, while Polk faces Chestnut Hill at Kresgeville and Barrett tangles with Coolbaugh in Candanensis.

A game between Chestnut Hill and Polk, slated for Brodheadsville, will be played at Brodheadsville as scheduled next Tuesday. It was announced earlier that the date for this game would be changed, but it was agreed to play as scheduled at yesterday's meeting.

It was also announced yesterday that Barrett would return to the basketball circuit in the spring and that each team would play 10 games.

The league basketball banquet, with Dr. Frank P. Maguire as guest speaker, will be held on Thursday, March 1. The annual all-star contest is set for Friday, February 24.

National Loop Releases Slate

CINCINNATI, Jan. 25 (P) — National League baseball teams, which will open the season on April 17, will play 250 night games in 1956—the same number as last year.

The schedule, released today, also showed that the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers will play seven of their "home" games in Jersey City.

Openers

The schedule for opening day puts Philadelphia at Brooklyn, Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Cincinnati, and Chicago at Milwaukee.

Then the clubs will hit the road and have another "opening" day on April 20 when New York will be at Philadelphia, Brooklyn at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati at Chicago and Milwaukee at St. Louis.

Giardello Given OK

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 25 (P) — Middleweight Joey Giardello, 25, was given his license back today by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

Giardello, who recently was released from prison after serving part of a term for assault and battery, during a row at a South Philadelphia gasoline station, was given a clean bill of health by the commission.

In Demand

Giardello is in demand for fights in various sections of the country and soon should be back in action. Giardello was the No. 1 middleweight contender before his bout with the law. He now ranks No. 7 in the 160 pound division.

Giambra Wins Over Andrews

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 25 (P) — Slow-starting middleweight Joey Giambra, of Buffalo, N. Y., punched out a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews of St. Paul, Minn., tonight in the Norfolk City Auditorium. Giambra weighed 158 pounds and Andrews 161½.

A crowd of 3,000 saw the nationally televised bout which featured the ninth annual Norfolk March of Dimes boxing carnival.

Scoring

Referee Elder Craft voted 97-88 for Giambra. Judge John Burton voted 96-94 and Judge Charles Ford 96-95.

Giambra, an aspirant for the world middleweight title recently discharged from the Army, was making his first ring appearance in five months. His last fight was a loss to "Bobo" Olson last August.

Andrews, who fought a losing decision to Joey Giardello in this ring last year, was the aggressor in the early going but Giambra finished strong, taking the last four rounds on The Associated Press card.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (P)—Hank Greenberg and Joe Cronin, two of the best right-handed hitters of the modern age, today were elected to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., by the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Assn.

Greenberg is general manager of the Cleveland Indians and Cronin is general manager of the Boston Red Sox, both in the American League where they spent most of their brilliant major league careers.

A total of 193 ballots were received from the eligible writers, with Greenberg earning 164 votes and Cronin 152. A total of 145, three-fourths of those cast, was necessary for election. Only players active in the 1930-50 period were eligible for recognition and they could not be active as a coach or manager within the last five years.

Only Two

The two new members were the only players close to election. Red Ruffing, a key pitcher on many New York Yankee pennant winners, was third with 97 votes. Then came Eddy Roush, former Cincinnati outfielder with 91.

Others among the first 10 in vote getters were: Lefty Gomez 89, Hack Wilson 71, Tony Lazzeri 64, Kiki Cuyler 55, Hank Gowdy 49 and Sam Rice 45.

Greenberg, now 45, had a lifetime batting average of .313 for 1,394 big league games, most of them with the Detroit Tigers. The 6-3 first baseman-outfielder hit 38 homers for the Tigers in 1938 and is ninth on the list of all-time home run hitters with 331.

Shortstop

Cronin, a shortstop in his playing days, broke into the majors at Pittsburgh in 1926-27 but came into his own in the American League at Washington from 1928 through 1934. He played at Boston from 1935 through 1945, when he retired after breaking his right ankle in an early season game at Yankee Stadium. He became general manager at Boston in 1948.

The San Francisco-born Irishman, now 49, is a member of the exclusive 2,000-hit club with a total of 2,285 hits in 2,124 big league games over a 20-year span. His lifetime average was .302 and he hit 171 homers.

Martin Guest Speaker As Stroudsburg High Awards 39 Football Letters During Assembly

A TOTAL of 39 football letters were awarded at a Stroudsburg High School assembly program yesterday, during which Gene Martin, head football coach at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, appeared as guest speaker.

Martin's theme was work and its close connection with football and other forms of athletics.

"Work is the price of success," Martin explains is a slogan that hangs over the desk of Earl "Red" Blaik, head football coach at West Point.

The popular ESSTC coach delivered a straight from the shoulder talk, during which he urged all athletes to work and practice and never give less than their best.

T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, athletic director, ran the program and introduced John Whitehead, head grid mentor. Whitehead thanked the student body for all it did for the team last season and congratulated the players on the spirit displayed during the course of the campaign.

Assistant coaches Charley Winters, Bill Peck and George Metropoulos took bows, as did Mahlon Serfass, faculty athletic manager, and John DeVivo, equipment manager.

Alfred W. Munson, Stroudsburg High principal, assisted Whitehead in passing out the letters.

Softball Loop Discusses Fund Raising

A DISCUSSION on means of raising money for the Keystone Amateur Softball Association Tournament to be held in Stroudsburg next August highlighted last night's meeting of the circuit at the Thomas P. Lambert Veterans of Foreign Wars Post.

Charley "Max" Hippler, softball commissioner of Monroe County, announced at the meeting that he would meet with Fritz Bader, area supervisor, in Allentown on Sunday.

Meeting

Hippler is anxious to obtain additional information on the tournament and possibly hold a clinic for umpires in the near future.

A group favoring an industrial softball league for next season was on hand to present its views to officials and team representatives of the Monroe County League.

Bruce Possinger, vice president of the circuit, announced at the close of the meeting that the next gathering would be held on Thursday, February 16, at the VFW Home, at 8 p. m.

Sullivan's Fate Rests With Helfand

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (P)—Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, today reserved decision on the fate of the licenses of the London Sporting Club and its matchmaker Ted Sullivan.

Sullivan denied charges of "con-sorting with persons convicted of crime, bookmakers, gamblers and persons of similar pursuits" as he took the witness stand in his own behalf in the closing sessions of the two-day hearing.

Sullivan and Willis Giltzenberg, treasurer of the London Sporting Club which runs the Monday night televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena, had been charged with eight violations of the commission code. Giltzenberg, however, surrendered his license and sold out his interests to Sullivan in a surprise move announced yesterday. Helfand refused to accept his "at-tempted resignation."

Requests

At the conclusion of the hearing, Helfand turned down several requests by Francis Adams, former New York police commissioner who is counsel for Sullivan and the club.

He refused to dismiss any of the charges but said he was reserving decision, pending a review of the minutes. He didn't indicate when he would be ready to reveal his findings.

Under the commission code, Helfand can take up Sullivan's license if he finds the promoter guilty of the charges.

EAST STROUDSBURG High completed its most successful first half Lehigh-Northampton League basketball season in several years on Tuesday by scoring a 55-51 win over strong Parkland, on the latter's home court. The Cavaliers finished the initial half race with five victories and three setbacks and wound up in fourth place, a position higher than five other clubs in the circuit. While the Cavaliers were "in-and-out" most of the way, they demonstrated against Parkland that they play tough basketball.

The charges of Dick Forster opened with a burst, tailed off in the middle games and then came with a rush to win the last two outings of the half. Beating Parkland on its home court is an outstanding feat, as veteran Lehigh-Northampton League observers will attest. East Stroudsburg wound up beating Wilson Borough, Coplay, Pen Argyl, Bangor and Parkland, while bowing to Fountain Hill, first hand champion; Hellertown and Nazareth.

East Stroudsburg's win over Parkland was truly a team effort, with King Beers, Jim Kimler, Dick Gray, Harry Miller and Dan Marvin doing the bulk of the work, with Bob Nitz supplying the valuable relief that proved the difference between victory and defeat. Beers was particularly brilliant in the win, as the lanky forward continued in a hot streak of basketball. Gray's clutch play in the fading moments settled the issue, with some fine board work by Kimler aiding greatly. Miller put on the best foul shooting demonstration of his career.

The Cavaliers, against league and non-league foes alike, have won eight games and dropped four decisions. Each of the victories have come when the East Stroudsburg club has played like a well-knit unit. The defeats were inflicted during a lapse in team play, with the exception of the beating handed out by a truly good Fountain Hill contingent. It's not folly to hope that East Stroudsburg will improve upon its current mark during the second half of the campaign which opens next Tuesday.

While East Stroudsburg was upending Parkland, Stroudsburg was going down to its seventh straight reversal, without a victory, in the Lehigh Valley League. The Mountaineers dropped an 82-61 decision to Catawqua, the first time the Rough Riders have won on the W. Main St. court in four years. It appeared as if Stroudsburg was going to make it four in a row over Catty on its home court when Tom Savidge "dunked" two quick field goals. But, such wasn't to be the case.

As it turned out, Catty could have inflicted even more damage if the Rough Riders hadn't played the first half. Dick Petro finished the contest with 24 points, evenly divided between the first and second halves, but he could have scored a bushel of points during the first and second quarters if his mates hadn't passed him up on countless occasions while open under the basket.

Catawqua appeared able to shake a man loose at will under the basket and the Mountaineers were never able to catch up once in front. Serge Salivonchick played brilliantly for Catawqua and his floor game certainly was the number one victory weapon for the visiting charges of Coach Bob Mushrush. The Rough Riders didn't have too much in the way of size, but they didn't make many mistakes and played with plenty of determination.

Stroudsburg, after a great start, fell into its time-worn habit of making countless mistakes, heaving wild passes and losing defensive assignments. For some unknown reason at least two members of the home team refused to move for passes, being content to remain stationary until the ball was thrown directly to them. It all added up to a winless first half for Stroudsburg.

The second half schedule is definitely not as favorable to Stroudsburg as the first half of the present campaign. But, the Mountaineers should have gained enough knowledge acquired enough to cause a lot more trouble than they did during the first seven games of the current campaign. It is quite possible that Coach John Kupiec may make a change or two on the roster prior to next Tuesday's second half opener with Whitehall. The Mountaineers follow with games at Slatington and Northampton before entertaining Palmerton at home.

Rotary, Lions Honor Past Little League President

Thomas Lauded For Service To Youth

MOUNTAIN HOME—Frank Thomas, past president of the Pocono Little League, last night was honored by approximately 70 men at a joint meeting of the Pocono Mountains Rotary and Barrett Lions clubs, here at Onawa Lodge.

Thomas, who guided the circuit to one of its most successful seasons in history, was presented by Gerald Possinger, recently elected to the office of president.

The retiring president guided the league through troubled times last season and his efforts were rewarded last night when officials of the Pocono Little League, Rotary and Lions gathered to pay tribute.

Possinger presented the plaque to Thomas and the gathering gave the popular figure a standing ovation.

History

Possinger outlined the history of the Little League since it received its franchise on March 31, 1952. It was formed with four teams, Pocono Lions, Mount Pocono Rotary, Barrett Lions and Barrett Rotary. Last year Tannersville and Tobyhanna were admitted to the fold. A total of 90 boys are uniformed players each year.

Past presidents include Lawrence "Joe" Wile, Major William Varney and Thomas. Past secretaries are Harold Kreck, Thomas and George Manos. Henry "Hank" Schaller is the present secretary. Willard Webster has been treasurer since the league was formed the Clair Bloss is the present vice president.

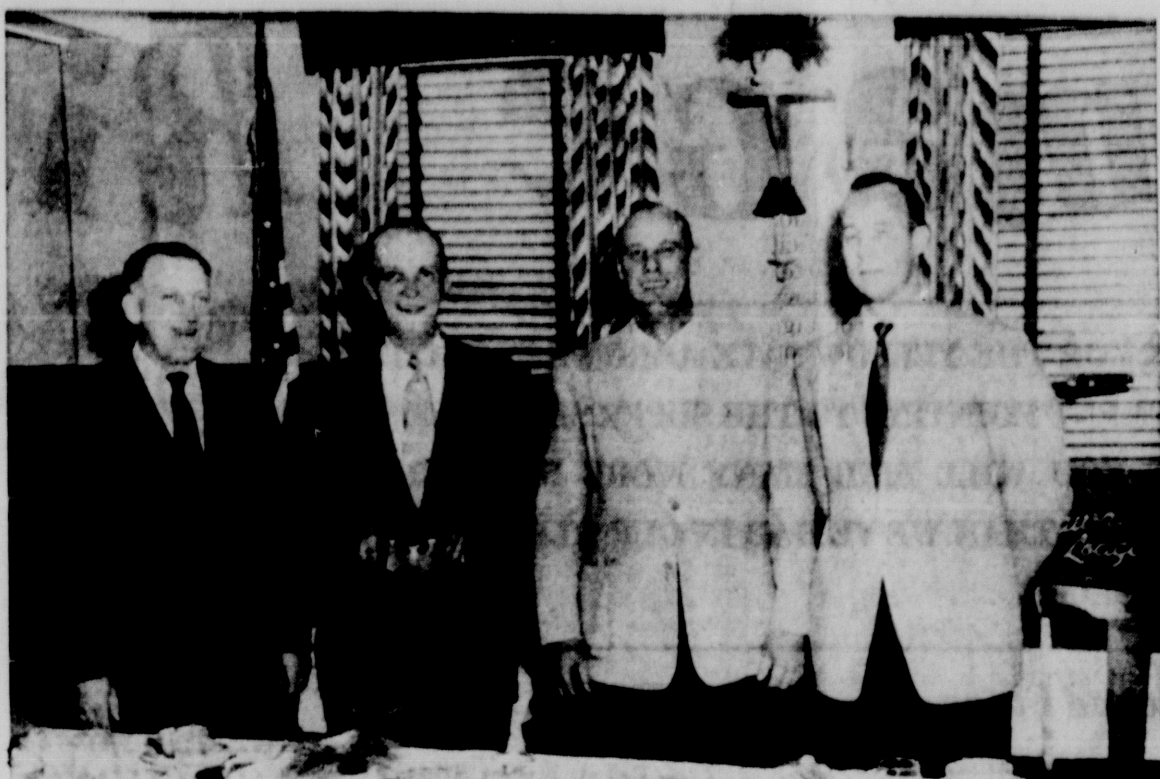

Sam Everett, president of Rotary, and Dave Guthrie, president of the Lions Club, served as co-toastmasters of the program.

Irwin Shinnen, who led the group in singing, also spoke briefly of Jim Riley, sports editor of The Daily Record, addressed brief remarks in praise of Thomas.

Players Must Hand In Uniforms

ALL MEMBERS of the East Stroudsburg Midget Football League who haven't turned in their uniforms from last season are urged to do so today. They must be obtained immediately to be cleaned and stored until next season.

Mike Palmisano will receive all uniforms at the East Stroudsburg High School gymnasium after 4 p.m.

Campanella Signs Top Salaried Pact

BROOKLYN, Jan. 25 (AP)—Roy Campanella, 34, three-time winner of the National League most valuable player award, today became the highest salaried baseball player in Brooklyn history when he signed his 1956 contract for an estimated $42,500.

The star catcher, rated the best in the National League if not in the majors, got his salary boost after a remarkable comeback last year following a dismal 1954 season due to a hand injury. From a batting average low of .207 which included just 19 home runs and 51 runs batted in during 1954, the receiver climbed to .318 last year, clouting 32 home runs and driving in 107 runs.

Phillies Outfielder Wally Westlake and pitcher Lynn Lovenguth also signed their 1956 contracts with the Philadelphia Phillies today.

At St. Louis Ellis Kinder, veteran pitcher, and Dick Rand, rookie catcher, have agreed to contract terms for 1956.

The Kansas City Athletics announced that infielder Forrest V. (Spook) Jacobs had signed his 1956 contract.

Bosox Give Higgins New 3-Year Pact

BOSTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Mike Higgins, an affable Texan who won 1955 "manager of the year" honors in his freshman season as a major league pilot, today was rewarded with a new three-year contract by the Boston Red Sox.

Terms of the new pact were not announced, but General Manager Joe Cronin indicated that Higgins received a sizeable salary increase. Best guesses were that the Red Sox manager will receive $35,000 to $45,000 a year.

"Mike did a great job with the club last year and was most deserving of a new contract," Cronin said. "He's been with us a long time and we want him to stay with us."

Managerial Career

Higgins, who ended a fine playing career with the pennant-winning Red Sox in 1946, began his managerial career with the Boston farm club at Roanoke in the Class B Piedmont League the following year.

He worked his way up through the Red Sox system and last year was summoned by Cronin to replace Lou Boudreau as the Boston field manager. After a poor start during which Higgins refused to panic, the Red Sox bounced back and were in pennant contention until late in the season.

Higgins was given a two-year contract before the start of the 1955 season, but Cronin said that agreement was "torn up" and replaced by the new one which will run through 1958.

Classic Action Slated

THREE MATCHES are set for the Monroe Classic League at Harmon's Recreation today at 7 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Jack's Market vs. Red Top Tavern.
Alleys three and four—Square Bar vs. Community Bar.
Alleys five and six—Eagles "A" vs. Bill Altier's.

Light Snow Falls On Eve Of Seventh Winter Olympics

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 25 (AP)—A light snow, the first in 15 days, fell on the starved slopes of this Alpine village today but it was only a tease on the eve of the seventh winter Olympic games.

While officials and competitors watched hopefully, snow drifted down for about half an hour. Then it stopped, before it could even begin to cover the bare courses. Then the clouds began blowing away.

So this giant international spectacle of snow and ice, an $8,000,000 undertaking harrassed by the snow drought and racked by injuries, opens formally tomorrow with skiing conditions still hazardous. No other snow is in sight.

Still another headache for officials appeared when ice hockey referees threatened to stage a walk out unless they were given better living quarters and compensated for expenses.

Angry Meeting

The 15 referees, representing each of the 10 countries in the tournament, held an angry meeting and issued a formal complaint. Some said unless the situation was remedied they would go home. Hockey officials promised remedial action.

Competition flares into full force Friday with opening runs for the daring two-man bobsleds, the 30-kilometer (18½ miles) cross-country ski race for men, the women's giant slalom and four ice hockey games, including a crucial opening match between the United States and Czechoslovakia.

Representatives of Squaw Valley, Calif., which has been awarded the 1960 games, were given a "satisfactory" reception by the International Olympic Committee and told they had until April 3 to show $5,000,000 could be raised for the project. The Californians say the money is assured.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 25 (AP)—The University of North Carolina today made public the terms of head football coach Jim Tatum's contract—$15,000 a year for five years, and renewable then if mutually satisfactory.

In another development today, Eddie Teague, one of Tatum's assistants at Maryland, was appointed an assistant varsity coach.

22,000 Trees, 3,000 Shrubs Ordered By County Planters

MONROE COUNTY PLANTERS have ordered 22,000 forest trees and 3,000 shrubs in the Department of Forests and Waters drive to utilize abandoned fields, steep hillsides and other idle lands for productive forestry.

These orders compare with 3,000 forest trees and 1,500 shrubs from planters in the Northampton County section of the Delaware Forestry district, and 2,000 forest trees and 500 shrubs by Pike County planters.

Local forestry officials said yesterday that many times the question is raised as to whether the same or similar results could be obtained by letting nature take its course on abandoned lands.

Generally, they said, where there are abandoned fields, steep hillsides and other idle lands, it has been found that in most cases undesirable species of trees and shrubs—such as aspens, grey birch and hawthorne—will take over the land first.

Loss of Growing Period
This, officials said, causes a loss of 15 to 25 years growing period for desirable species. Eventually, they pointed out, desirable species may take over the land.

Because of the uncertainty involved in such cases, man takes matters in his hands and turns to reforestation, foresters said.

They emphasized that reforestation is the only practical way to accomplish the establishment of desirable tree growth in the short-term length of time. Species that are best adapted to certain sites can be planted. The seedlings can be spaced so that good forest management can be practiced. In many cases, nature is not able to start a forest on the type of lands already abandoned.

Application blanks and listings for seedlings may be obtained in person or written for at the Department of Forests and Waters, 1081 W. Main St., Stroudsburg.

GI Insurance Dividends To Be Paid

ELIGIBLE GI insurance policyholders who wish to change the method of payment for the regular annual 1956 dividend are required to notify Veterans Administration of the payment method desired, H. J. Kohl, Jr., contact officer, VA Regional Office, Wilkes-Barre, said yesterday.

Those who wish to receive their 1956 dividend in the same manner as in the past are not required to notify VA of that fact. Their previous payment method will be applied automatically.

Eligible policyholders may request VA in writing to pay their regular dividends to them in cash or to apply the dividends in payment of future premiums.

Permanent plan policyholders have also the choice of requesting in writing to place their dividends on deposit drawing interest compounded annually and subject to their control.

Mr. Kohl explained that GI policies not eligible for the 1956 dividend are World War I term plans; non-participating policies issued to Korea veterans after April 26, 1951; and policies for which premiums are waived while the insured is in active military service.

These latter policies are excluded from dividend payments only for those months they were under waiver.

Stocks Start Strong, Then Lose Punch

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP) — The recovery movement in the stock market continued for the second session today, but it bogged down and lost its punch.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $174.70. It advanced $2.20 yesterday. At the first of the year the average stood at $180.20.

The industrial component of the average was up $1.30, rails were up 50 cents, and utilities gained 10 cents.

21 Highs

The list was composed of 1,474 individual issues of which 569 were higher and 347 lower with 21 highs and 6 lows for 1955-56. Business came to only 1,850,000 shares as compared with 2,160,000 shares traded yesterday. Both totals are below average for 1955-56 and below the total that were amassed during periods of recent market weakness.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange on volume of 750,000 shares as compared with 650,000 shares traded yesterday.

Corporate bonds were higher. U. S. governments over the counter were higher.

William Wyckoff Explains Operation Of Local Plant At Kiwanis Club Meeting

WILLIAM WYCKOFF, member of the firm manufacturing merchandise display equipment, spoke before the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon on the subject of "Modern Merchandising."

Frank L. Stackhouse was program chairman. The speaker said the motto of his firm for this year is "Today's opportunity to meet tomorrow's challenge."

In this connection he declared that retailing must do something to meet that challenge and many changes that take place. He told of conditions 25 years ago with their poor facilities and appearance, traced the growth of chain stores and then mail order business. All this challenged the old-time retailer, he said.

The local firm of Edinger and Wyckoff was organized in 1947 and by 1955 had approximately 50 employees. The plant covers 25,000 square feet, he said.

Stresses Proper Equipment
The need of proper equipment for handling all kinds of merchandise was emphasized. His firm manufactures the varied equipment for manufacturers and business concerns in many sections of the country.

One of the big problems of retailers is personnel, the speaker said. He commended local schools for training given for office work, art and industrial lines, but more young people should be directed to retailing lines, he said. He mentioned leading manufacturing concerns in the country which have met the challenge and increased the volume and benefits of better retailing as a result of the equipment made available.

The first objective of the local firm was the development and production of fixtures to sell to manufacturers; second, special designed fixtures for shipment throughout the country, and third and only

BROTHERS BECOME KNIGHTS — The five Lewis brothers of Pocono Pines were initiated into Pocono Mountains Council, Knights of Columbus, at St. Ann's Parish Hall, Tobyhanna, this week. They received the first and second degrees, along with 68 other men which make up the first class of the new council. Rev. John D. Lawler (right), of St. Ann's R. C. Church, is shown congratulating Lewis Lewis, eldest of the brothers. Also shown (left to right) are Norman, James, Joseph Jr. and William Lewis.

Red China Demands U. N. Seat But Mum On No-Force Pledge

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

One point where the Chinese Reds always miss the boat in their propaganda is their failure to recognize that they must give some assurance of moral rehabilitation before the United States will go into any high level diplomacy with them.

Red China, by virtue of her intervention in the Korean war, wears the label of aggression placed upon her by the highest bar of world public opinion.

By refusing to accept the American suggestion that she renounce the use of force except in self defense, she insists on maintaining this outlaw role.

Barriers Down

Substantial negotiations on the issues in the Far East, particularly Formosa, would be tantamount to diplomatic recognition by the United States, and that would practically tear down the barriers to Peking's entry into the United Nations.

The force of admitting to the U. N. a nation which stands convicted of violating its principles, and which has refused to give any assurance that the violation will not be continued, is too apparent to be negotiable.

The Red spokesman at Geneva keeps reiterating, in effect, that his government will not use force against Formosa provided Formosa is yielded.

Secretary Dulles gives no sign of meeting Chou En-lai so long as that attitude continues.

U. S. Responsibility

The United States has a treaty responsibility for the defense of Formosa, and intends to live up to it.

The Red envoy remarks that if current negotiations do not lead to a higher-level conference at which the question can be settled, the United States will be responsible for the consequences.

He leaves the nature of the consequences to the imagination. It sounds like a threat of war.

Morganza School Changes Urged

HARRISBURG, Jan. 25 (P)—A legislative investigating committee today called for sweeping changes at the Pennsylvania Training School at Morganza. The committee reported finding evidence of "near brutal" treatment of trainees.

The 11-member House-Senate probing body also reported "improper supervision" of inmates was found at the Washington County school for boys and girls during its months of investigating.

The committee recommended the school be used only for boys and changed the eligibility standards for membership on the Morganza board of trustees to include three juvenile court judges and two members of the General Assembly.

Six Children Die As Fire Levels Home

BRIDGETON, N. J., Jan. 25 (AP)—Six children burned to death today as their father tried in vain to reach them on the second floor of their frame home at Fordville, a tiny community three miles east of here.

The victims of the blaze which leveled the two-story dwelling were the children of Austin and Hazel Pitts. They ranged in age from 18 months to 16 years.

Pitts, a Bridgeton ironworker, escaped with his wife and a seventh child—a four-month old boy, Andrew.

The father was badly burned on both hands in attempting to rescue Margaret, 16; Thomas, 11; Perry, 10; Sheila, 5; Harvey, 3; and Paula, 18 months.

The parents and the youngest child slept on the first floor and so were able to escape when they when they were awakened by crackling flames and smoke shortly after midnight.

The fire apparently started in the kitchen where a kerosene stove was left burning too warm the house.

Truman Advised Ike Against Running For President In '48

By Ed Crouch

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—

Former President Truman says he counseled Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower against running for the presidency in 1948.

That was the year Truman himself won the presidency in his own right.

Truman, in a new installment of his memoirs, says he is sure

Eisenhower in 1948 was against making any such campaign as the one which took him to the White House four years later.

Truman's account, appearing in Life magazine, says "professional liberals" in the Democratic party were in favor of ditching Truman and running Eisenhower as a dark horse in 1948, but:

"The boom for Eisenhower never developed... because the general resisted the efforts of those who tried to change his mind."

Truman says the Eisenhower-for-president talk got a boost from a conversation he had on the subject with the then Army chief of staff early in 1948.

"I asked him," Truman recalls,

"if he intended to run for president. He told me that he had no intention of running for the office.

"I told him that I thought he was using good judgment. I said that I did not think he could add anything to his splendid career and that the only thing he would accomplish by getting into politics would be to detract from his reputation."

Truman, who says he ran himself that year because there was

"unfinished business" left over from the administration he inherited from Franklin D. Roosevelt, makes it plain he did not consider Eisenhower qualified for the presidency.

"Wrong Business"

He quotes with approval this comment which he attributes to

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex)

on the subject of Eisenhower in 1948:

"No, won't do. Good man, but wrong business."

Truman discusses, in the current installment, such diverse topics as presidential preference primaries and the role he played—under much pressure, he says—in the establishment of Israel as a nation.

He said the practice of nominating presidential candidates in national conventions "has 14 faults" but is the best yet developed.

Truman devotes a good deal of space to an attack—which he has made often—on newspapers and radio stations which, he contends, were "deliberately irresponsible" and stacked the deck against him in 1948.

He concludes, however: "Any good politician with nerve and a program that is right can win in the face of the stiffest opposition."

There is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more subtract 4. If the number is less than 6 add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers. Read to right then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Tax Service Booklet Shows How To Deduct Flood Losses

THOUSANDS OF TAXPAYERS who suffered financially from hurricanes, floods, and other disasters of 1955 will get a helping hand from the Internal Revenue Service in information intended to assist them in preparing their income tax returns for the year.

The tax collection agency has just published a new booklet entitled "How the Federal Income Tax Applies to Losses from Hurricanes, Floods, and Other Disasters." Ample supplies of the new publication are now available to taxpayers at all Internal Revenue Service offices of the Scranton District, Director F. P. Graham said yesterday.

Thousands of taxpayers will meet tax problems of this character for the first time in preparing their 1955 returns, Mr. Graham said. A number of complicated tax problems arising from disasters, and shows how to figure allowable deductions. All procedures incident to figuring casualty losses are explained so that full benefits to which taxpayers are entitled may be received.

The booklet is broken down into sections which treat with the following subjects: What is a casualty loss; How to figure the amount of the loss; When the loss is deductible; Who is entitled to refund of prior loss from casualty; How to treat insurance and other recoveries; How to treat disaster relief;

Possible Shortage Of Aircraft Fuel Seen If War Comes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Will W. White of the Air Force told the National Petroleum Council today that there might be a shortage of aircraft jet fuel in case of war.

White, staff director of the petroleum logistics division of the Defense Department, said peace-time requirements for jet fuel in the United States are expected to jump from a current level of about 213,000 barrels per day to about 410,000 barrels per day by 1961-65.

He added in a prepared speech that "in wartime the total free world jet fuel requirement could increase to between one and two million barrels per day."

White expressed confidence, however that by working together as they have in the past the military and the petroleum industry "will be able to surmount any problem."

The council reelected Walter S. Hallanan, Charleston, W. Va., as its chairman for an 11th one-year term.
